L.O: To make a prediction.

Today we will be making a prediction about our new book.

What is a prediction?

What do you think the new book is about? Can you explain why?

How do you think the character feels?

What do you think the promise is?

You will be writing a prediction based on what you think the story is about.

The key word you need to make sure you use is 'because.'

Let's read the story and discuss whether your predictions were accurate or not.

L.O: To use capital letters and full stops correctly.

<https://www.bbc.co.uk/bitesize/articles/zkgyvk7>

What is a capital letter?

- You should always use a capital letter:
- At the beginning of a sentence
- For the pronoun 'I'
- For proper nouns - names of actual or specific people, places, objects, films or book titles.
- For example: Theo, Mr Fenton, April, Monday, Italy, Declaration of Independence, 'Frozen'.

Which letters should be capitalised?

- in july i am going to cornwall.

- my favourite film is 'despicable me'.

Remember: the start of every sentence, pronoun 'I' and name of anything specific needs a capital letter.

Full stop

- Full stops are needed to split up sentences so that we know where to pause.
- They are used when we have finished saying one thing and want to say something else.

I went to the shop later I ate some food

Where does the full stop need to go?

Your task: You will be given a range of sentences with capital letters and full stops missing. Re-write the sentence using capital letters and full stops correctly, but make sure you also include your finger spaces. You should not be making any spelling mistakes.
