ART

Our topic is Ancient Egyptian Art .

TASK: Making a Sarcophagus

Ancient Egyptians believed that anything placed within a sarcophagus would accompany the spirits of the dead into the afterlife.

What You Need: Shoe box, Paper bags, Scissors, coloured construction paper Paste or rubber cement, Markers or crayons

What to do:

1. Cut the paper bags into flat sheets. Crumple them up into balls and then smoothing them out again. The wrinkled textures are perfect for making the sides of the tomb look weathered and ancient.
  2. Cover each side of the shoebox with the crumpled-up paper. Be sure to cover the lid as well, so that the sarcophagus can be opened and closed.
  3. Next, cut out shapes and designs that remind you of Egypt. Look online for inspiration as to what sorts of symbols were used. Glue these pictures around the outside of the tomb.
  4. Egyptians were known for their hieroglyphics. Look up some real hieroglyphics online, or get creative and make up some of your own symbols and word codes.
  5. Think about what sorts of things you want inside the tomb, and draw and cut them out. If you need some ideas, food, animals, pottery, and jewellery were often common objects placed in the tombs. Once you've rounded up a few objects, place them inside the sarcophagus. With the tomb complete, all that's lacking is a mummy!
- If you want a mummy, you can wrap a doll in some toilet paper and place it inside the sarcophagus. If you made a mummy during Easter holidays, then use that mummy! Now, display it somewhere and take a photo!
- You can also email the picture to learning@wembleyprimary.brent.sch.uk

You can even make a Sarcophagus

Out of paper or cardboard.
